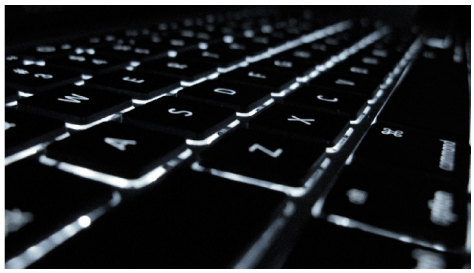
CLASS DESCRIPTION:



Is Fentanyl an issue in your jurisdiction? Has your agency experienced opioid overdoses? Have you discovered new drug dealers who have no ties to DTO's?

Do you know that there is a part of the internet where you can hire hackers, buy drugs, exchange child pornography, buy stolen credit cards, and even hire an assassin anonymously? Do you know the differences between the Clearnet, Deep Web, and the Dark Web? Have you ever heard of TOR? If you can't answer yes to all three questions, then The Dark Web: An Introduction for Law Enforcement is for you.

Join us as this class will introduce you to the dark web while taking a live look at the good, bad, and absolute evil the dark web has to offer. This course walks you through examples of cases involving the dark web at the Federal, state, and local levels.

TOPICS COVERED:

- TOR (The Onion Router)
- Beneficial Dark Web sites
- Illicit Dark Web sites
- How criminals use the dark web
- Encryption services
- Introduction to de-anonymizing TOR
- Setting up a device for Dark Web investigations

INSTRUCTOR:

Jonathan Birk is an intelligence analyst with experience in telecommunications, social media, terrorism, and world events. Jonathan has been involved with providing intelligence products to military, law enforcement, and the counter drug effort for 14 years. As an intelligence Superintendent in the Air Force Reserves he has a broad scope of experience in intelligence analysis and specializes in open source collection. His formal education includes a Bachelors Degree in Intelligence Studies from the American Military University.

Jonathan has taught social media and other courses at the Los Angeles Clearinghouse for over six years. He has become a keynote speaker at the annual Los Angeles Violent Crime Behavioral Analysis Seminar providing insight into using social media in investigations. Various agencies have used his expertise to assist with cases involving social media.
